

8 - 10 NOVEMBER 2022,
THE HAGUE, THE NETHERLANDS

ANNUAL SEMINAR

Executing C2 in a Multi-Domain Environment

Who is in Command and who do we Control?

Every year, NATO's Command & Control Centre of Excellence (NATO C2COE) organizes a seminar on a particular aspect of Command & Control (C2). This year's seminar will take place from 08 - 10 November 2022 in the Hague. The seminar for 2022 is titled "Executing C2 in a Multi-Domain Environment - who is in Command and who do we Control".

The aim of the seminar is to inform and challenge participants on the arguments and theory surrounding C2 execution in a multi-domain environment by providing the latest insights and perspectives on C2. In order to achieve this, the NATO C2COE has invited a range of experts - from academia and across the Alliance - to share their viewpoints on various aspects of MDO and MDC2, thus illustrating its increased relevance, while providing the initial framework for C2 in the not too distant future battlefield.

We are delighted to announce that this year's edition of the NATO C2COE annual C2 Seminar will be conducted as an in-person event. In this regard, you are kindly requested to register your participation during the subscription window that will be open from 21 July to 31 October.

For registration and more information visit: www.c2coe.org/seminar